Attorney for Plaintiffs
 MARC J. RANDAZZA, JENNIFER RANDAZZA, NATALIA RANDAZZA

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
DISTRICT OF NEVADA

MARC J. RANDAZZA, an individual,)	Case No. 2:12-cv-2040

Defendants.)

Plaintiffs Marc J. Randazza, Jennifer Randazza, and Natalia Randazza, a minor, through counsel, hereby supplement their Motion for the Court to Declare Cox a Vexatious Litigant. After filing their motion, Plaintiffs discovered that Cox had filed two additional, duplicative lawsuits in the United States District Courts for the District of Massachusetts (Exhibit A) and Eastern District of Pennsylvania (Exhibit B) against Plaintiff Marc Randazza and many of the same non-parties she has named in her other actions, including counsel Ronald Green, Judge Gloria Navarro, and the World Intellectual Property Organization, among others. (Exhibits A, B)

Without burdening the Court with production of another one of Cox's repetitive complaints, Plaintiffs note that it appears Cox's complaint filed with the United States District Court for the District of Massachusetts appears to be approximately 200 pages in length (Exhibit C) and covers

1 the same subject matter as her prior complaints (Exhibit A) (indicating “Racketeer/Corrupt
 2 Organization” as the basis for suit). Cox’s complaint filed with the United States District Court for
 3 the Eastern District of Pennsylvania also appears to be approximately 200 pages in length (Exhibit
 4 D), and has an extensive list of defendants that almost entirely overlaps with all of her other
 5 pending actions (Exhibit B).

6 Cox has now filed what is almost entirely the same lawsuit in nine states outside of Nevada.
 7 Cox’s complaints now near 200 pages in length and require special accommodation for the affected
 8 United States District Courts to make them publicly available. (Exhibits C, D) In all, Cox has filed
 9 one of these duplicative complaints, alleging substantially the same claims against largely identical
 10 parties, in one out of every five states in the country.¹ Plaintiffs respectfully request that the Court
 11 take notice of and consider this newly discovered document when evaluating the pending motion to 12 declare Cox a vexatious litigant.
